Overview

Frank G. Harmon, III is one of the most experienced attorneys in the commercial litigation section.

Frank started his career in law by working as a former Assistant District Attorney in Harris County, Texas from 1973-1980. From there, he dedicated himself to the private sector, helping individuals and businesses sort through complex legal issues.

Frank's decades of successfully resolving client's problems makes him a valuable resource for many attorneys at Crain Caton & James to turn to when they need perspective on a legal matter that calls on an understanding of precedent.
